TYSON—BOYD
A wedding of much interest was that of Miss Alma Rita Tyson, of Statesboro, to Monroe Boyd, of Port, which took place on September 28, Rev. Wm. Kitchen officiating. Mrs. Boyd is the daughter of Mr. R. H. Tyson. She was a graduate from the Port high school in 1935. The young couple will make their home near Port.

LANIER—AMASON
Interest centers in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Alice Katherine Lanier to Wm. Fred T. Amason, of Statesboro. She is a graduate of Wesleyan College and for several years she was a teacher in the Georgia schools. Mr. Amason is now stationed in Atlanta, where he has a position with the Georgia Power Company. The wedding of this popular young couple will take place on November 4 at the home of the bride.

SPALDING—MOONEY
(Atlanta Constitution.)
Eliciting the interest of hosts of friends and relatives is the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Sally Christian Spalding and Dr. Alfonso John Mooney, the marriage to be solemnized on October 12 at 8:30 o'clock at St. Mark's, due to the construction of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church. Dr. Alfonso Mooney, pastor of the Second-Ponce de Leon church, will officiate, with Dr. J. W. Whiston, of St. Mark's church, assisting.

Miss Elizabeth Spalding, sister of the bride-elect, will be maid of honor, and Mrs. Robert Bryan, sister of the bride, will be matron of honor. Bridesmaids will include Misses Ruth Harris, Rosalind Johnson, and Mary Ann, Maxwell Dudley of Baltimore, Md., and Sarah Mooney, sister of the groom-elect, of Statesboro.

Dr. William S. Mitchell will be Dr. Mooney's best man, and groomsmen include Dr. Hugh Hailley, Rev. William Carson, of Bowling Green, Ky.; Jack Jenkins, of Blundale, formerly of Savannah; Gardner Allen and Robert Bryan.

Ushers will be H. Warner Martin, Hal P. Hentz, Fred Paxson, Dr. J. D. Martin, Jr., Dr. Woodford B. Baker, and Dr. Julian Quattlebaum, of Savannah. Music will be played by Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey.

After the ceremony the bride and groom will be honored at a small reception given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Spalding, on Rivers road. Assisting as bridesmaids will be Misses Elizabeth Spalding, and Mrs. H. H. Hentz, H. Warner Martin and other members of the bridal party. Outgoing guests, members of the family, and the wedding party are invited to attend.

Out-of-town guests will be Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Mooney, of Statesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Tupper Sausy, of Tampa, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. William S. Patrick, Tampa, Fla., and others.

SHOWER AND TEA
Miss Lou Mae Howard entertained delightfully Friday afternoon at the home of her parents on North Zetter, over avenue with a miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Dekle Goff, who before her recent marriage was Miss Evelyn Lee. A profusion of garden flowers gave charm to the rooms. Mrs. Alfred Dorman met the guests at the door and presented them to the hostess and honor guests. Receiving with them were Mrs. Popple, of Jessup; Mrs. Brody, of Jessup; Mrs. H. H. Howard, Mrs. Dan Brannen directed the guests to the dining room where Miss Mary Simmons, Carolyn Lynn Blitch and Geraldine Goff served as salad course. A silver basket filled with varicolored towels, and a centerpiece to the prettily appointed table. Unshaded tapers and bonbon dishes filled the room, and refreshments were served at intervals. In the gift room were Mrs. E. G. Cromarie and Miss Janet Dekle. Mrs. Dave Kennedy directed the guests to a side door through which they departed. A musical program was rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. L. T. Denmark, Jr., at the piano and Miss Marie Davis, who sang. One hundred guests called during the afternoon.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY
The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock as follows: Ruby Lee and Drea Sharpe circles at the church; Sadie Maude Moore circle at the home of Mrs. Hudson Wilson.

SEND BIG CROWDS ON ROOSEVELT DAY
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 14 (GPS).—With all arrangements for the description of President Roosevelt at Grant Field next month agreed upon by the Georgia congressional delegation, cities, towns and communities throughout the state are making plans to send record breaking crowds to welcome the nation's chief and beloved part-time citizen, according to reports received in Atlanta. It will be a welcome such as no president in the country's history has ever received before and a home-coming celebration without precedent in this or in any other southern state, leaders believe.

Plans for the official program at Grant Field, where President Roosevelt is to deliver an address that is expected to open his southern campaign for re-election, do not call for any speech by Governor Talmadge, bitter critic of the New Deal.

United States Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. is to preside at the Grant Field ceremonies and United States Senator Walter F. George will introduce the president. There will be no other addresses except that of President Roosevelt.

The program arranged by the Georgia congressional delegation at a meeting here calls for all state house officials to be seated on a stage behind the speakers' platform. On the platform will be the Georgia delegation, with their families.

Governor Talmadge, explaining his attitude, said he did not know the exact date of the president's visit and that he might have speaking engagements which would necessitate his presence outside of Atlanta when the president arrives.

ROOSEVELT DATE ANNOUNCED SOON
COMMITTEES OF VARIOUS ACTIVITIES TO ARRANGE FOR PRESIDENT'S COMING.
(By Georgia News Service)
Senators George and Russell, together with Eric Coker, general chairman of the Roosevelt Home-Coming celebration committee, will meet with the president, probably one day this week and, according to a bulletin from celebration headquarters, it is expected that the date for Mr. Roosevelt's Atlanta speech will be announced immediately following the conference.

Meanwhile, enthusiasm over the celebration mounts with the appointment of various committees representing people in many walks of life in many sections of the state. Recruits continue to sign for the numerous motorcades being planned. The estimate of a hundred thousand visitors to Atlanta on Celebration Day is considered conservative.

Most recent committees to be named are the Georgia mayors committee, the press committee and the transportation committee. The press committee announced by Governor Talmadge was supplemented by additional appointments by Milton Fleetwood, president of the Georgia Press Association.

The Georgia mayors committee which will assist co-operation of all municipal officials, will include the following in addition to J. D. Ashley, mayor of Valdosta, who is chairman: Thomas R. Gamble, Savannah; Homer Damon, Columbus; Herbert I. Smart, Macon; R. E. Allen Jr., Augusta; Nap Racker, Roswell; Zach Arnold, Fort Gaines; W. G. Herring, Warm Springs; George W. Westmeland, Jefferson; J. B. Rynder, Vienna; A. C. Hay, Donalsonville; H. C. Hatcher, Waynesboro; B. S. Inman, Thomasville; E. N. Smith, McDonough; E. D. Barrett, College Park; Lonnie A. Pope, Douglas, and H. T. Flanagan, Winler.

The press committee, in addition to Chairman E. R. Jerger, Thomasville, will include: Edmund Page, Columbus; Jere Moore, Milledgeville; Chas. D. Rountree, Wrightsville; Lon Sull; R. H. Albion, Macon; Charles Brown, Cordele; J. G. Herring, Tifton; C. B. Allen, Moultrie; Turner Rockwell, Valdosta, and Milton Fleetwood, Cartersville.

Fleetwood also has named a supplemental group from among members of the Georgia Press Association of which he is president. They are: John Paschall, Clarke Howell Jr., James Wilson, Hal M. Stanley and Tarleton Collier, all of Atlanta; W. G. Sutlive, Savannah; Herschel V. Jenkins, Savannah; Hugh J. Rowe, Athens, Quincy Melton, Griffin; Roy Emmett, Cedartown; Charles Beale, Butler; P. F. Shope, Dalton; D. B. Turner, Statesboro; Ernest Camp, Monroe; John N. Holder, Jefferson; R. E. Hammock, Cochran; J. P. Pryor, Fitzgerald, and W. T. Anderson, Macon.

The railway transportation committee, which will plan extra rail service over the state, is headed by Hugh Couch, Atlanta.

There will be a two-days chest X-ray clinic held in the court house at Statesboro on December 3rd and 4th. The clinic will be held jointly by the state and county health departments and the state Tuberculosis Association, and will be conducted by Dr. H. C. Schenck, chief clinician, assisted by A. M. Tinsley, X-ray technician; Margaret Patterson, clinic nurse; Miss Susie Turk, district tuberculosis nurse, and Miss Lois Blitch, the county health nurse.

It is desired to have two full days of work. Every person in this county who has any definite reason for having this examination, by having a contact to an active case of having any of the following symptoms, will be given appointment:

Persistent cough and frequent colds; loss of weight; unusual fatigue; loss of appetite; unaccountable daily temperature.

Miss Turk, the district tuberculosis nurse, is in the county and will be in the court house Friday, October 25, from 8:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. She will be back to the county November 25, 26 and 27, and will be in the court

Successful Hog Sale Held Here Wednesday
Bulloch county farmers co-operated here Wednesday to sell 17,270 pounds of hogs on foot for $8.80 per hundred for tops. White Provision Company, Atlanta, was the buyer.

Of the 98 head sold by these 21 farmers, George Miller Jr., a 4-H club member, sold the best finished hog. He entered an eight-month-old barrow that weighed 230 pounds, but they returned him $224. There were larger hogs entered than George's, but they were not finished as well as the club pig. The ten spotted Poland Chicks of Horace Hagins' weighed 2, 200 pounds and returned their owner $183.50.

METTER CHURCH ROW OUT OF COURT
MRS. F. H. SILLS WITHDRAWS DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST PASTOR AND DEACONS
Swainsboro, Ga., Oct. 22.—The $10,000 damage suit against Elder J. Walter Hendricks, of Savannah, and E. J. Bird and J. S. Brannen, of Metter, was withdrawn from the superior court today by Mrs. Sarah Trappell Sills, of Metter.

This damage suit was the result of the Metter Primitive Baptist church excluding Mrs. Sills, the wife of Elder F. H. Sills, by a vote of 25 to 19 on a charge that she had violated the Scriptures in marrying Elder Sills, who was divorced by a former wife. The suit was to come to trial at a called term last Monday in November.

Judge H. B. Strange, of Statesboro, and Judge W. H. Lanier, of Metter, were present after a separation of five weeks. Elder J. W. Hendricks, of Statesboro, represented the defendants.

The withdrawal of the suit Mrs. Sills said: "Having been urged by many of the ministers of the Primitive Baptist church to withdraw this suit on account of the possible effect upon the various churches of the denomination, and being willing to make a personal sacrifice for the sake of peace and harmony among the churches, the within suit, with the approval of all attorneys and friends, is withdrawn."

The withdrawal is signed by Mrs. Sarah Trappell Sills, plaintiff, and H. B. Strange and W. H. Lanier, attorneys, and approved by Judge H. B. Strange and Judge W. H. Lanier.

At the suggestion of a number of leading ministers, Mrs. Sills recently united with Upper Black Creek Primitive Baptist church near Brooklet, where her husband, Elder F. H. Sills, has membership and is pastor. It is understood she joined under the watch-care of the church and the church will request the Metter church to rescind its former action and grant her a letter.

A number of leading ministers and laymen have promised to lend their influence in having the Metter church undo what it has done and grant the letter. Mrs. Sills has accepted their request in withdrawing the damage suit.

The leaders of the denomination believe the best course is to let the matter between Elder F. H. Sills, of Metter, and Elder J. Walter Hendricks, of Statesboro, which has continued for nearly four years, will be ended by the withdrawal of this law suit and the contemplation of the act of the church in rescinding its action in excluding Mrs. Sills on account of her divorce.

Returning last February to Texas for the summer round-up, Barker was riding in a trailer behind McDaniel's Packard. At a point near Portia the trailer overturned and the driver was thrown out and sustained a badly crushed leg. For three months Tex stood over him and sought to restore him to his former self, but he failed. The leg was too badly shattered.

On May 1st McDaniel left his animal in the care of John M. Hendrix, who volunteered to give him a home as long as he needed it. Then Tex turned his face Westward, tears falling from his cheeks.

Wednesday he was back and he plans to carry Barker with him when he leaves Monday morning for his home at Laredo, Texas. He is today saying: "What the Commissioner put in the trailer put in the trailer for the journey. Saturday and Sunday he and Barker will keep 'open house' at Portia for the weekend, and those who want to bid them farewell are invited to call on them there at any hour during the two days. They will be on their way Monday morning early for Texas, where Barker will be returned to his 'old home' and 'old friends' by leg out of shape but as strong apparently as ever.

Childhood and Youth At Methodist Church
The observance of Childhood and Youth Week has become almost a universal practice throughout the Methodist church. The week of October 27-November 6 has been designated by the board of Christian education of the local church as the most convenient time for the observance.

The general theme for study and discussion is: "What the Commissioner put in the trailer put in the trailer for the journey. Saturday and Sunday he and Barker will keep 'open house' at Portia for the weekend, and those who want to bid them farewell are invited to call on them there at any hour during the two days. They will be on their way Monday morning early for Texas, where Barker will be returned to his 'old home' and 'old friends' by leg out of shape but as strong apparently as ever.
